

2008 BODY CAMPS

The science of learning about the human body and brain has never been more fun than it is now!

Mid-America Science Museum and WOW Village (for Big & Little Kids) are teaming up once again to host a new educational series: BODY CAMPS. Each camp is specifically designed for different age groups, and will focus on the developmental milestones associated with each. The goal of each camp is for campers and parents to gain a deeper understanding of how brains and bodies develop at each age level.

Date	Age Group	Camp Time	Snacks / Adult Q & A
July 28, 2008	4 – 7	9:00 am – 10:30 am	10:30 am – 12:00 noon

August 6, 2008	16 - 19	9:00 am – 10:30 am	10:30 am – 12:00 noon

Camps can be followed by a trip to either the GROSSOLOGY exhibit (recommended for younger children) or the OUR BODY: THE UNIVERSE WITHIN exhibit. (GROSSOLOGY's appearance at MASM is made possible by a new collaboration among seven Arkansas museums, the Arkansas Discovery Network, and is funded by a generous grant from the Donald W. Reynolds Foundation.)
